

Welcome, bienvenus, bienvenidos, أهلا بك

Palliative care and COVID-19

Challenges for the humanitarian sector

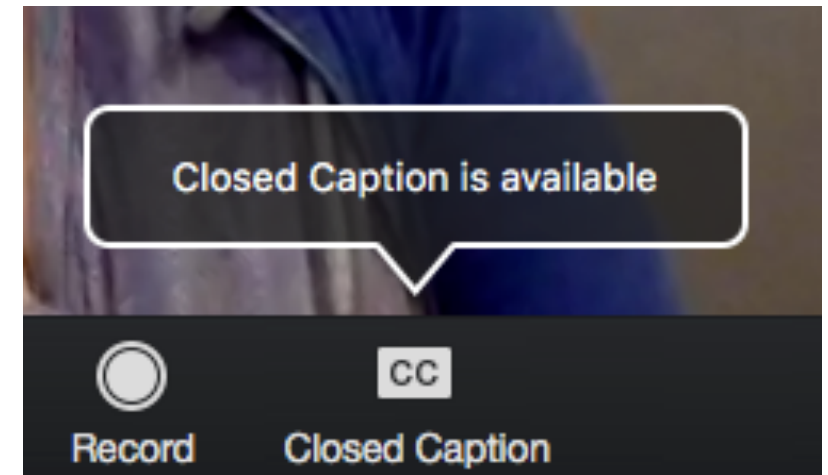

Webinar | Wednesday, 28 October 2020

9am Buenos Aires, 1pm Geneva, 5:30pm Delhi | bit.ly/sphere-covid-palliative

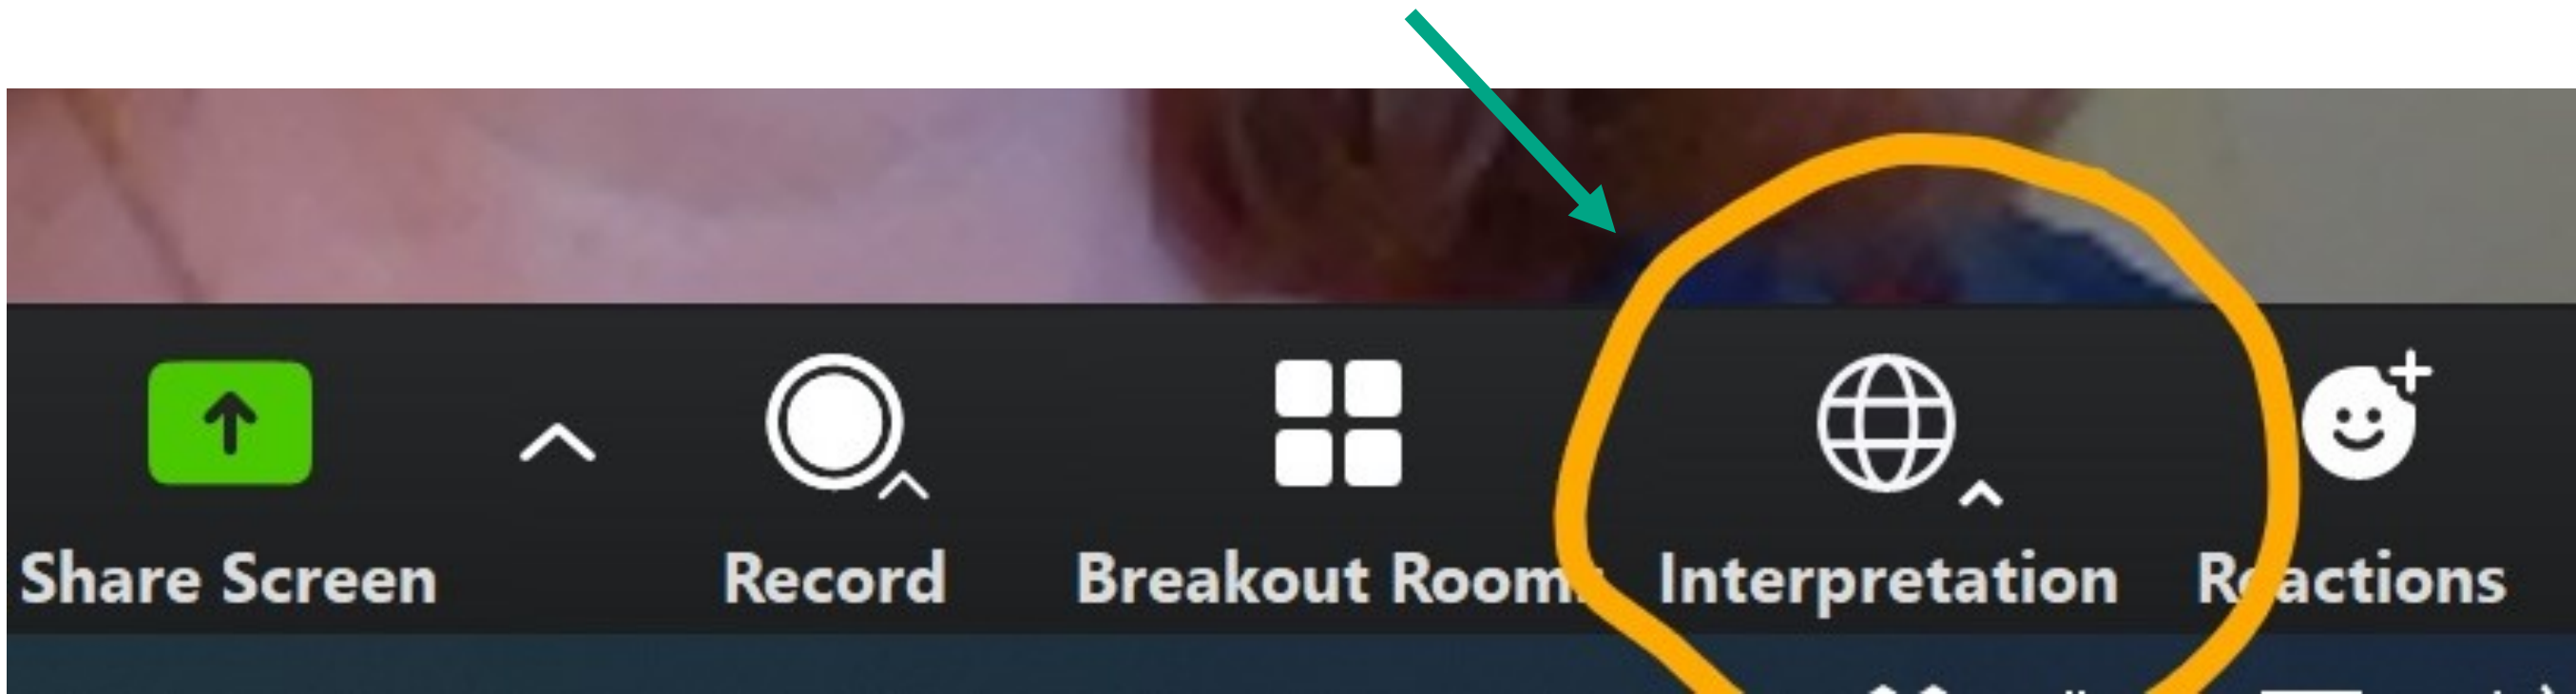

Accessibility

- English live captions available →

- We are translating into international sign language (Remember to «pin» the video)
- Simultaneous interpretation available into Arabic, French and Spanish

Some housekeeping rules...

- Please mute your microphones when not speaking
- “Raise your hand” / write in the chat if you have a question
- Please remember to fill in the evaluation form after the webinar: bit.ly/palliative-evaluation

This webinar is being recorded!

We will share the recording and the presentation at bit.ly/sphere-covid-palliative

Dr Balwant Singh

Welcome message

Sphere Executive Director

Aninia Nadig

Facilitator

Policy and Practice Manager, Sphere

Webinar objectives

1. Highlight the importance of palliative care for communities and in humanitarian response: people have the right to live and die with dignity.
2. Explore the palliative care standard in the Sphere Handbook and its relevance to Sphere's values and principles, with a particular focus on community and psycho-social care.
3. Discuss the challenges of integrating palliative care into humanitarian response, as well as potential solutions to the challenges.
4. Share examples of palliative care in humanitarian settings and how Sphere standards can serve as an enabler.
5. Elicit positive examples and challenges from participants to promote further learning.

Meet the speakers

- Rachel Jane Coghlan

Public health researcher and palliative care physiotherapist,
Centre for Humanitarian Leadership, Deakin University - Australia

- Monalisa Matonda

Clinical social worker, Island Hospice - Zimbabwe

- Dr Eba Pasha

Focal Point for the Global Health Cluster Covid-19 Task Team
and Sphere Handbook Health chapter author

- Frances Tsikai

Nurse Consultant, Island Hospice - Zimbabwe

Let's have a poll

The palliative care standard in the Sphere Handbook

bit.ly/sphere-palliativecare

Palliative care standard 2.7: Palliative care

People have access to palliative and end-of-life care that relieves pain and suffering, maximises the comfort, dignity and quality of life of patients, and provides support for family members.

Panel Discussion

- Rachel Jane Coghlan
Public health researcher and palliative care physiotherapist,
Centre for Humanitarian Leadership, Deakin University - Australia
- Monalisa Matonda
Clinical social worker, Island Hospice - Zimbabwe
- Dr Eba Pasha
Focal Point for the Global Health Cluster Covid-19 Task Team
and Sphere Handbook Health chapter author
- Frances Tsikai
Nurse Consultant, Island Hospice - Zimbabwe

Questions & answers

The palliative care standard in the Sphere Handbook

bit.ly/sphere-palliativecare

Palliative care standard 2.7: Palliative care

People have access to palliative and end-of-life care that relieves pain and suffering, maximises the comfort, dignity and quality of life of patients, and provides support for family members.

Find the recording and presentations online
bit.ly/sphere-covid-palliative

Please fill in the evaluation form!
bit.ly/palliative-evaluation

Join our final webinar on 3 November

 Sphere

Humanitarian standards matter

COVID-19: Local and global perspectives

Webinar | Tuesday, 3 November 2020
8am Panama, 2pm Geneva, 4pm Nairobi | bit.ly/sphere-covid-global

In partnership with bit.ly/sphere-covid-global

Get in touch:

spherestandards.org
communications@spherestandards.org